

At Community Care College, we remain steadfast in our commitment to the highest standards of education, integrity, and transparency. In keeping with that commitment, we are writing to inform you of a recent update regarding our accreditation status.

On October 16, 2025, the Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC) has placed Community Care College on Warning status. This designation is part of the Commission's regular oversight and review process and does not revoke or remove the College's accreditation.

The ACCSC's decision identifies the following areas for improvement:

1. Demonstrating successful student achievement and reporting acceptable rates of student graduation and graduate employment in the career fields for which the College provides education.
2. Verifying that the College supports student achievement rates through accurate records and documentation of initial graduate employment.
3. Providing additional information regarding the College's Probationary status with the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP) for the Surgical Technology program.

Please know that we take these matters seriously and have already implemented comprehensive measures to address each area identified. Our top priority remains delivering a high-quality education that meets the needs of our students and aligns fully with all accreditation standards. We are confident that, through continued effort and accountability, we will promptly resolve these issues and return to full compliance.

We appreciate your ongoing trust, understanding, and support as we strengthen our institution for the benefit of our students, faculty, and community.
